Welcome to Home in Place

This handbook has been developed to support you in your home by clearly setting out what you can expect from us, and what we may need from you as part of your tenancy. It brings together key information about living in a Home in Place property, including your rights, responsibilities, and where to go for help or advice.

A NOTE ON LANGUAGE

You may notice that throughout this handbook we use the word tenant.

When we refer to a tenant, we are referring to all people who live in a Home in Place property, including residents, renters and, in some cases, clients.

We recognise that language differs across states. For example, in Victoria the term renter is commonly used instead of tenant.

You may also notice references to Community Participation Officers (CPO), throughout this handbook. Community Participation Officers are based in a number of locations across our portfolio. Where a Community Participation Officer is not assigned to your location, you can contact your Home in Place Tenancy Relations Officer (TRO) or Tailored Support Coordinator (TSC), who can assist you or connect you with the appropriate support.

ABOUT THIS HANDBOOK

This handbook reflects information that is current at the time of publishing.

Some information may vary depending on the state or territory you live in, or the type of property you reside in. Where details are specific to a location, program or portfolio, links are included to guide you to the relevant information, and the Home in Place website should always be used as the source of the most up to date information.

This handbook is intended as a general guide to living in a Home in Place home. It does not replace individual advice or your tenancy agreement.

If you have questions, need clarification, or would like support at any time, please contact Home in Place on 1300 333 733, or visit our website.

RESIDENTIAL TENANCY AGREEMENT

When you accepted an offer of housing with Home in Place you will have signed a tenancy agreement. The tenancy agreement is the legal contract between you as the tenant and Home in Place as the landlord/property manager.

The tenancy agreement sets out the rights and responsibilities of the tenant and the landlord. You have been provided with a copy of the signed tenancy agreement and Home in Place will retain a copy for our records.

The tenancy agreement contains a lot of information including:

- Your name and the address of the property
- Home in Place's name and contact details
- The name of other people who will live in the property
- The current market rent for the property
- The terms of the agreement

PROPERTY CONDITION REPORT

A property condition report records the general condition of the property room by room, including fixtures and fittings.

You have been provided with two copies of the completed property condition report.

You need to complete your section on both copies, keep one copy for your records and return one copy to Home in Place within five days.

This is an important document and will be used at the end of the tenancy to review the change in condition of the property throughout the duration of the tenancy.

Social Housing

Social housing is a form of heavily subsidised rental housing delivered by either state housing authorities, or by not-for-profit organisations like Home in Place.

Social housing that is provided by government agencies is often referred to as public housing, whereas social housing delivered by not-for-profit providers is described as community housing.

Social housing rents are capped at market rent but calculated on 25%–30% of the assessable household income, plus 100% of the household's maximum entitlement to Commonwealth Rent Assistance (CRA).

Applicants for social housing must meet strict eligibility criteria including income and asset limits.

At Home in Place, we believe community housing is about much more than providing accommodation. It's also about building communities which is why we're dedicated to making sure our tenants have a voice and are actively engaged in their communities.

In addition to professional tenancy management, Home in Place continues to be an industry leader in the provision of additional wraparound services that help sustain tenancies and delivering tenant engagement initiatives that help foster greater economic and social participation.

SOCIAL HOUSING FAQs

What is CRA?

CRA is a regular extra payment from Centrelink which you may be eligible for if you already receive certain payments and pay rent. The amount you receive is dependent on the amount of rent you pay.

CRA is a non-taxable income supplement paid to individuals and families who are renting.

More information on CRA eligibility rules can be obtained from the Centrelink™ website www.servicesaustralia.gov.au.

How do I apply for CRA?

You don't need to apply for CRA as Centrelink will assess your eligibility when you claim a payment from them. However, if you have recently moved you will need to let Centrelink know so that they can reassess your eligibility for CRA. Centrelink will ask you to complete a Rent Certificate in order to calculate how much CRA you can claim.

Can you live in social housing and own property?

You will not generally be eligible for social housing if you own property. There are however a few, very specific exceptions to this rule. Details about social housing eligibility can be found on the Home in Place website at homeinplace.org/applying-for-social-housing.

Affordable Housing

Affordable housing is an alternative for very low to moderate income households experiencing housing stress in the private rental market.

In Australia, affordable housing is managed by charities and community housing providers such as Home in Place.

Affordable housing is offered at a rebated rent to low-income workers, who would otherwise experience housing stress in the private rental market.

Rents in affordable housing properties are capped at between 75% and 80% of the assessed market rate for the property in question.

To qualify, household income must be within the limits set by the Affordable Guidelines published by the Department of Communities and Justice.

PROGRAM SPECIFIC INFORMATION BUILDING BETTER CITIES

For affordable properties acquired under the Building Better Cities Program the income limits are set by Home in Place.

They are available to key workers in the Newcastle area on low to moderate incomes and a percentage of household income is required to be employment related.

AFFORDABLE HOUSING FAQs

Who owns and manages Affordable Housing?

Affordable rental housing may be owned by private investors, local governments, charitable organisations or community housing providers. It is usually managed by not-for-profit community housing providers such as Home in Place.

How is my Affordable Housing rent calculated?

Affordable Housing rents are set on a percentage of the market rent – usually between 75%–80%. The amount you pay will depend on the market rent for a similar property in the same area.

Am I eligible for Affordable Housing?

To be eligible for Affordable Housing you must:

- Be an Australian citizen, a permanent resident or have a valid visa to reside in Australia. This could be through work, education, family or long-term residency.
- Be a low-moderate income earner.
- Have satisfactory tenancy history.
- Be earning below the income level relevant to your household type.

How do I apply for Affordable Housing?

All Home in Place Affordable Housing vacancies are advertised on realestate.com under the relevant locations.

Links can be found at www.homeinplace.org/affordable-housing

Prospective applicants are encouraged to register their interest in available dwellings via the online enquiry form within each listing.

THERE ARE MORE FAQs ON THE HOME IN PLACE WEBSITE AT

WWW.HOMEINPLACE.ORG/FAQS

SECTION 2

Your tenancy with Home in Place

HOW YOUR RENT IS CALCULATED

In social housing, the amount of rent you pay is based on a percentage of your assessable household income. If eligible, this also includes Commonwealth Rent Assistance (CRA).

The amount of rent you pay will not exceed the market rent.

More information on CRA eligibility rules can be obtained from the Centrelink™ website www.servicesaustralia.gov.au.

RENT REVIEWS

Home in Place will undertake a general income assessment and rent review approximately every six months for all social housing tenants and annually for affordable housing tenants.

Tenants are notified of the upcoming rent review and asked to provide updated household income details. If this information is not provided, you may be charged market rent until the information is received.

In New South Wales, Home in Place undertakes an income assessment and rent review every six months.

In Queensland tenants' rents are reviewed annually in line with recent changes to Queensland legislation.

In Victoria, market rent is reviewed and adjusted, generally on an annual basis.

In Western Australia, tenants' rent is typically reviewed annually, or more frequently if a tenant's household income changes.

Home in Place is required to review market rents annually to make sure that the rate at which market rent is assessed is in line with current valuations of properties. Tenants will be notified of any adjustments to the market rent.

Information on the rent review process, including state specific information, is available on the Home in Place website at homeinplace.org/rent-payments-bond.

PAYING YOUR RENT

Before you signed the tenancy agreement you would have been asked to supply income details for each member of the household to enable Home in Place to calculate your entitlements to subsidised rent.

Home in Place requires tenants to pay rent in advance based on the frequency of their payments. For example, if you pay weekly, your rent must be paid a week in advance each time you make a payment.

It is important rent is kept in advance at all times. You can pay your rent weekly or fortnightly, it should be paid at the same time each week or fortnight in accordance with your tenancy agreement.

RENT ARREARS

A tenant who does not pay rent will be in breach of the Residential Tenancy Agreement.

If rent falls into arrears at any time, Home in Place will work with tenants to set up a payment plan to catch up. Hopefully, this should only be a one-off situation. Falling behind in rent can put your tenancy at risk. If a tenant is more than 14 days in arrears, Home in Place may issue a notice of termination.

NON-RENT CHARGES

Water Usage

Water usage is charged in line with the relevant state legislation. Where applicable, tenants are responsible for paying water usage charges for their home.

Water charges are shown separately on tenant statements and are payable in addition to rent. This helps ensure transparency about how charges are calculated and applied.

For more information on the state-specific water use/consumption charges please refer to the Policies page on our website homeinplace.org/publications-and-policies.

Property Damage

Tenants must not cause or allow any damage to the property, either intentionally or through lack of care or attention, including by other occupants or invited guests.

If the tenant causes or allows damage to the property, Home in Place may ask the tenant to arrange to repair the damage or to pay for costs of the repairs if they are undertaken by Home in Place.

CHANGE OF CIRCUMSTANCE OR CONTACT DETAILS

Home in Place needs to know of any changes that may occur in a tenant's household.

These include:

- Changes in income
- Changes to the people living in the property
- If you would like to get a pet
- If you would like to make any alterations to the property (e.g install an air conditioner or garden shed)

Visitors can stay overnight but if you want someone to move in permanently, you must apply for approval by completing an application for an additional occupant and submitting this to Home in Place for consideration.

Tenants must advise Home in Place within 21 days of any change in circumstances.

Failure to provide this information may result in the loss of the rental rebate and market rent being charged.

It is also important that tenants notify Home in Place if they change their contact details.

ANTISOCIAL/DISRUPTIVE BEHAVIOUR

Home in Place takes all complaints about antisocial or disruptive behaviour seriously and will investigate each incident in a fair and reasonable manner. Home in Place can only act when satisfied that the antisocial/disruptive behaviour has occurred, and the complaint relates to a tenancy issue.

Home in Place can only investigate allegations if the alleged behaviour may be a breach of a tenancy agreement.

Home in Place cannot investigate alleged illegal behaviour. This type of alleged activity must be reported to the police.

Other types of disruptive behaviour can be reported to other relevant authorities.

Behaviour that can be reported to the local council includes:

- Noise complaints
- Excessive dog barking
- Dangerous or roaming animals
- Cars blocking footpaths

Home in Place encourages tenants to sort out problems in an informal manner, for example, talking with the person first as this may solve the problem quickly. Tenants can also be referred to mediation services for assistance.

Where the problem involves harassment, verbal/physical abuse or intimidation, tenants are encouraged to contact the police before contacting Home in Place.

This type of alleged behaviour, if proven, may be a breach of a person's tenancy agreement and Home in Place may take action in the relevant state's Civil and Administrative Tribunal.

More information on antisocial behaviour on Page 53

ENDING THE TENANCY

If a tenant wants to end a tenancy agreement, they are required to provide at least 28 days' written notice giving the notice period required by the Residential Tenancies Act 1997.

The notice is effective from the date it is received by Home in Place.

Home in Place may agree to accept a shorter notice period on a case-by-case basis, this is at the discretion of the Tenancy Relations Officer.

Tenants will be advised of the responsibilities when ending a tenancy including:

- Rent is paid up to the date the tenancy ends
- Any outstanding maintenance issues, that are the responsibility of the tenant, are rectified
- The property is left in a clean and tidy condition
- Remove all belongings from the property
- All keys and other locking devices are returned to Home in Place

If belongings and rubbish are not removed, the charges associated with storage, removal and disposal may be passed onto you.

The property should be returned to Home in Place in the same or similar condition it was in at the commencement of the tenancy, taking into account fair wear and tear.

Tenants should refer to the Property Condition Report for any repairs/damage they may be responsible for.

For more information, please refer to the relevant state-specific Ending Tenancy Policy on the Home in Place website at www.homeinplace.org/publications-and-policies

SECTION 3

Property Care and Maintenance

PROPERTY INSPECTIONS

Home in Place will inspect your property one to four times per year. You will be notified in writing of the date of the inspection.

An inspection report will be kept on your file following each visit. If Home in Place is concerned about property care or damage a follow-up inspection may be arranged.

PROPERTY CARE HINTS

A few hints to make sure the property is well looked after:

- Regularly clean the inside of the property
- Keep the property, including any yards or gardens, free of rubbish
- Sweep concrete paths around the property on a regular basis
- Regularly remove any mould from walls and tiled areas

GARDEN CARE

If you live in a house with a yard it is your responsibility to maintain the outdoor areas of the property. Tenants are required to keep plants and lawns watered, mow the lawn regularly, and remove weeds and debris as required. Tenants must also comply with any water restrictions.

During periods of absence from the property, tenants are asked to make arrangements to have the garden watered and maintained.

Trees must not be removed from properties without the written approval of Home in Place. Excessively tall trees can become dangerous and Home in Place may arrange to have them lopped.

Home in Place is responsible for the upkeep of common grounds/areas attached to units. If you live in a unit complex that has an enclosed or fenced off garden or courtyard, it is your responsibility to maintain the enclosed area.

CAR PARKING

If you are provided with a designated parking space, this means the space is for your use only. In some unit complexes it is not possible to allocate designated parking, this means any tenant can park in any space. Some complexes may have visitor parking or parking for emergency vehicles, these spaces must not be used by tenants.

Vehicles of any description must not be parked on common areas, for example, lawns.

RUBBISH

Rubbish must be placed in the correct rubbish and recycling bins as approved by the local council. Generally, the council will not collect rubbish placed in boxes or other containers. If the bin goes missing during the tenancy, please contact Home in Place.

Each local council provides bins for the homes in their zone. The bin lid colours indicate what rubbish or recycling you put in that bin. Councils can use different systems for their rubbish and recycling bins.

Please check your local council website for information about what day the bin collections are in your street.

In general, the three main colours are:

RED OR DARK GREEN BIN LID

Non-recyclable household waste such as food, plastic bags and wrappers, foam, nappies and crockery and other non-recyclable household rubbish.

LIME GREEN BIN LID

Garden cuttings, leaves, cut flowers, twigs, and branches. Put these in loosely, no plastic bags please.

YELLOW BIN LID

Plastic bottles, tubs and containers, glass bottles and jars, paper and cardboard, tin and steel cans, milk and juice cartons. No plastic bags please.

Most local councils will offer either bulk waste collection services or tip vouchers. Please contact your local council directly for enquiries about bulk waste services.

PETS

In some cases, tenants can have a pet live with them in their home. There are conditions about the type of animal and the type of housing the tenant is living in.

Tenants must seek permission to have any type of pet at a property by completing a Request for Pet or Animal form. This form is available on our website or by contacting your branch.

ALTERATIONS TO THE PROPERTY

You must gain approval from Home in Place before making any alterations to the property. Home in Place will not unreasonably decline requests for minor alterations such as picture hooks, however it is always best to seek approval first.

You will be responsible for paying for the cost of any alteration or installing any fixture.

At the end of your tenancy, you will be responsible for leaving the property in the same condition as at the start of your tenancy, except fair wear and tear. This includes making sure any alterations or additions are removed, and fixing any damage caused to the property.

You can choose whether to remove any fixtures you have installed, provided you repair or compensate Home in Place for any damage caused by removing the fixture. You cannot remove any fixtures Home in Place has paid for.

The Alterations to Properties Policy sets out what alterations are, how tenants can apply for permission to make alterations and how Home in Place manages the requests. It can be downloaded from the Home in Place website at www.homeinplace.org/publications-and-policies

GENERAL MAINTENANCE

Home in Place is responsible for carrying out maintenance and repairs to your property.

Tenants are expected to keep their home and any private outdoor areas in a clean and tidy condition, and to report damage or maintenance issues as soon as possible. Prompt reporting helps issues be addressed early and reduces the risk of further damage.

Tenants must allow reasonable access to the property for Home in Place staff or contracted tradespeople to assess and carry out maintenance.

Access is generally required during normal business hours, 8am to 5pm, Monday to Friday, excluding public holidays. Where possible, staff or contractors will attend while the tenant is present. If this is not possible, tenants are asked to make suitable arrangements for access.

Home in Place is responsible for maintaining common areas.

Tenants are asked to help keep common areas clean, tidy and safe.

Items must not be stored in common areas, as this can create safety risks. Items left in common areas may be removed without notice.

IDENTIFYING THE TYPE OF MAINTENANCE

Before reporting a maintenance issue, it can help to identify whether the issue relates to your home or a common area.

A common area is any shared space outside your front door that is used by more than one household. Common areas can include hallways, stairs, foyers, gardens, shared laundries, paths, car parks and bin bays.

Common areas do not include spaces for your exclusive use, such as inside your home, your balcony, or a fenced courtyard or garden that is only accessible to your unit.

Examples of common area maintenance issues include:

- Broken or faulty lighting
- Water leaks in shared spaces
- Broken gates or doors
- Damaged paths or paving

REPORTING MAINTENANCE ISSUES

Maintenance issues can be reported 24 hours a day, 7 days a week by calling Home in Place on 1300 333 733.

Non-urgent maintenance can also be reported using the maintenance request form on the Home in Place website.

WWW.HOMEINPLACE.ORG/CONTACT-US

Fire Safety

Fire Safety

SMOKE ALARMS

Working smoke alarms are the best way to alert people to fires in their home. Home in Place properties are fitted with hardwired smoke alarms.

Home in Place will:

- Ensure that at least one smoke alarm is installed in a hallway, outside a bedroom or another suitable location
- Check smoke alarms every year to ensure they are working
- Replace batteries every year (or lithium batteries, in the period specified by the smoke alarm manufacturer)
- Replace smoke alarms within 10 years of manufacture, or earlier if specified by the smoke alarm manufacturer
- Give the tenant at least two business days' notice to inspect or assess the need for a smoke alarm repair or replacement
- Give the tenant at least one hour notice to carry out a repair or replacement of a smoke alarm
- Use a licenced electrician to repair or replace a hardwired smoke alarm

All tenants must notify Home in Place if a smoke alarm is not working. This includes when a battery needs to be changed. Smoke alarms are installed for tenants' safety. Do not remove the battery or interfere with the smoke alarm for any reason!

EVERYDAY FIRE PREVENTION

1. Never leave cooking unattended.
2. Keep tea towels, paper, and other flammables away from stoves.
3. Don't overload power points or use damaged cords.
4. Switch off heaters, stoves, and appliances when not in use.
5. Keep heaters, candles and incense away from curtains and bedding.

FIRE BLANKETS

Fire blankets are made of fire-resistant fabric (like woven fiberglass) used to smother small fires, particularly in kitchens (oil/fat fires) or on a person's clothing, by cutting off their oxygen supply, and it can also shield against heat. They are simple to use, require no special training, and come in various sizes.

Fire blanket use

- Take hold of the two tabs and pull the blanket from its bag
- Hold the tabs towards yourself and protect your hands.
- Walk slowly towards the fire, stretching your arms in front of you.
- As the blanket touches the top of the stove, place it over the fire.
- Leave the blanket over the pot for at least thirty minutes.
- If it's safe to do so, turn off the gas/electricity at the stove or at the main supply.
- Call Triple Zero (000)

ESCAPE PLANNING

- In a fire: Get out, stay out, and call 000.
- Know two ways out of your home if possible.
- Keep exits clear. Ensure your home is clear of clutter as this it can affect emergency response time and access.
- Share your escape plan with everyone in the household.
- If safe, close doors behind you to slow the spread.
- Never use lifts — always use stairs.
- Have a meeting point outside with family/housemates

SECTION 5

Get Involved

TENANT REFERENCE GROUPS AND OUR VOICE PANEL

Tenant Reference Groups provide a local forum for tenants and Home in Place staff to discuss key aspects of our service. Members of these groups meet quarterly to discuss a range of issues that impact their lives.

Discussions from each Tenant Reference Group feed into the deliberations of an overarching Our Voice Panel which in turn reports to the Home in Place Board. This ensures the views of tenants are able to influence company policy and decision making at the highest levels.

Developing local opportunities for tenant 'voice' is an important aspect of our overall tenant engagement strategy.

Benefits can include:

- Services more closely aligned to tenants needs
- Direct feedback on issues of quality of service
- Costs savings from efficiencies identified by tenants
- Better tenant relations and opportunities for tenant empowerment

To find out more or register your interest in joining the Tenant Reference Group in your area, contact your local Community Participation Officer or Tenancy Relations Officer on 1300 333 733.

VOLUNTEERING

Home in Place encourages and supports tenants who wish to take part in volunteering opportunities. Tenants can volunteer at our events and activities or can talk to us about referral pathways to other types of volunteerism.

SUSTAINABILITY AND GARDENS

Community gardens not only provide tenants with access to fresh fruit and vegetables but create a platform for social inclusion and address good health and wellbeing on a number of levels.

Home in Place also engages tenants on other sustainability issues providing information on energy and water efficiency and responsible waste management.

To find out more about our sustainability initiatives, keep an eye on our social media pages and the Home in Place website, or contact your local Community Participation Officer or Tenancy Relations Officer on 1300 333 733.

Home in Place takes all complaints about antisocial or disruptive behaviour seriously and will investigate each incident in a fair and reasonable manner.

Home in Place can only act when satisfied that the antisocial/disruptive behaviour has occurred, and the complaint relates to a tenancy issue.

It may be helpful to keep a diary of incidents. An incident diary form is available for you to download from the Home in Place website at www.homeinplace.org/complaints or you may obtain a copy of the form by contacting Home in Place.

When an incident is confirmed appropriate action will be taken.

Some complaints must first be reported to the relevant authority.

Behaviour that can be reported to the local council includes:

- Noise complaints
- Excessive dog barking
- Dangerous or roaming animals
- Cars blocking footpaths

Home in Place cannot investigate alleged criminal/illegal behaviour and this type of alleged activity should be reported to the police. Home in Place can act if the behaviour is substantiated by police and constitutes a breach of the tenancy agreement.

Examples of behaviour that must be reported to the police includes:

- threatening behaviour
- domestic violence
- suspected illegal drug activity
- stalking
- theft
- a neighbour being either physically or verbally harassed by another neighbour

Home in Place investigates all complaints of antisocial and disruptive behaviour thoroughly and fairly, giving tenants the opportunity to respond. Tenants can have a support person or advocate help them with this process.

Tenants who have been the subject of a complaint must be given a reasonable chance to address their behaviour. Home in Place may take a range of actions to help the tenant address the behaviour and maintain their tenancy, including referral to a support service, closely monitoring the tenancy or action in the tenancy tribunal.

For more information, please refer to the Management of Antisocial Behaviour Policy POL-025-04 on the Home in Place website at www.homeinplace.org/publications-and-policies or contact Home in Place.

CYBER SECURITY AND ONLINE SAFETY

Tips for improving your cyber security and online safety:

1. Avoid clicking hyperlinks, especially if they claim to be from a financial institution. Most scammers will use links and impersonate banking emails. If the first thing a link asks for is your username and password it is the first warning flag something is not right.
2. Ensure your computer is patched and updated as often as possible.
3. Always use an antivirus program, Microsoft Windows has Defender built in, but we also recommend Webroot, Kaspersky or ESET.
4. Scams, competitions, giveaways. If they sound too good to be true then double check the source is correct and the email you have received the offer from is legitimate. Hackers often use these giveaways to capture your email address, passwords and other personal information.
5. Enable two factor or multifactor logins wherever possible, especially on your Facebook and email accounts. These systems use either SMS, phone call or an app to deliver you a special one-time pin or code to enter when logging in. This adds an additional layer of verification to your account.
